MEMO FOR

Last Monday in one of the briefcases I sent back a desk-top card index of addresses. These were my Mother's ^{own} ~~home~~ records of her friends. What I intended was to ask you to make a list of those and put it into the computer. Many of them are there already but this will help update them. Perhaps we ought to look at it together, however, because there were some unusual segregations of things at the rearend of it.
